

Experiential Topology

The below list is not proof in the sense of a finding of a modern scientific experiment; and no such claim can or should be made. Also, there are countless personal sightings by groups of people, countless also of these with video. The bizarre sightings and indications of non-human sentient creatures interpenetrating human affairs spans 6,000 years, and is a sufficient experiential topology of similar experiences that it does arise to the level of sufficiently justified to not be spuriously ignored. In other words, as this long-lasting phenomenon conforms to the non-magical metaphysical explanation of a singular species collapsing an originary wave-function, and now we see in human history a pattern that indicates that such a sentient entity does in fact exist.

While it is certainly possible to give a "best explanation" for some of the below - indeed as I am not personally involved in each and every case, I cannot guarantee one or more are not hoaxes of some sort - the best explanation for all of the below taken as a whole indicate that some positive probability must be assigned to non-terrestrial involvement in human affairs going back to pre-history.

The below were selected from a much larger list. What is disturbing, however, is that consistent testimony by credible witnesses is often summarily dismissed rather than accepted and properly placed into metaphysical explanations. Thus the current purpose of the non-magical metaphysics and multi-consciousness ontology is an initial attempt to access the best explanation of all experiences to locate ourselves within existence.
